The Bureau of School Information is responsible for many helpful services performed at Rome Free Academy for the benefit of the student body. It is the broadcast staff's job to acquaint each student via the public address system, with the roster of each day's activities. In addition the broadcasters are announcers at many interscholastic sports events.

Members of the Press Division, aided by the BSI typists, report events of interest at Rome Free Academy to the Rome Daily Sentinel. These events range from club activities to class elections and from college acceptances to the senior play. It is also this section's duty to prepare the June graduation pages which appear in the Sentinel. Feature articles, written with a by-line, on such topics as the weight of the average student's books, highlight the BSI Press reports.

The Library Council under the direction of Mrs. Helen Arthur, head librarian, strives to give its members a knowledge of the basic library skills. Members have a wide selection of duties which they perform on their assigned day. One of the requirements for membership into this service organization is a willingness to help with library inventories, to design bulletin boards, or arrange displays for Book Week. During Book Week the library held a cider and doughnut "break" for the teachers, at which time they could look at the new books, and if desired, put them on reserve for their students. Library Council members also aid the RFA librarians in their daily work, checking out books, distributing library slips, and recording, shelving, and covering books. At the end of the school year, the Library Council holds its annual social function.

In the fall, after the nominating committee had presented its slate, the following officers were elected: June Krulinski, president; Linda Arthur, vice-president; Pam Bush, secretary; and Michael Cianfrocco, treasurer.

ROSTRA AND FORUM

J. Jeroszko inspects the bulletin board.

This year Mr. Robert Lux has gathered in homeroom 323 a staff for RFA's Rostra and Forum. The Forum, RFA's bulletin board, presents a variety of interesting and informative articles. J. Jeroszko, with her staff, weekly canvasses the school so that she might report the latest happenings in clubs and activities as well as other interesting occurrences that would otherwise go unnoticed in a school as large as ours. Cartoons and the latest gossip are put on the board to catch the attention of every student. Although RFA has no newspaper as yet, the Forum attempts to fill this need.

The entire homeroom has worked on the fund-raising project — selling The New York Times, which serves a dual purpose, that of providing money to publish the Rostra, and keeping the students posted on the latest world news.

Rostra is the school's new literary magazine, which will be the first since 1934. J. Lazovik and his committee, early in the school year, started gathering literary articles for this magazine.

The Red Cross Club is composed of one representative elected from each homeroom. One of the first projects undertaken was a fund drive for the Rome Chapter, in which five hundred dollars was raised. The club also assembled a chest filled with personal and school supplies to be sent to needy teenagers abroad. The highlight of the club's activities was the annual talent show produced by club members and counseled by Mr. Elmer Grapenstetter, the club's sponsor. Under the direction of its officers, Pat Moneta, president, Jeri Vargo, vice-president, Bill Slobodian, secretary, and Pat Gotti, treasurer, the Red Cross Club concluded its activities by entering a float in Rome's annual May Day Parade.

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS

Enthusiastic French students increase their knowledge of French customs and life at the bimonthly Cercle Français. Under the adept leadership of Miss Katherine Clarke and the club officers Linda Zingerline, President; Joanne Rudensey, Vice-president; Nancy Niederhauser, Secretary; and Sherry Hartman, Treasurer, Le Cercle is conducted completely in French.

Throughout the year, the group sees films of French life and participates in skits and song fests. The year is highlighted by the traditional Christmas candlelight "cerémonie pour Noel" and the final banquet with a truly French menue. This year's club was honored with the visit of Monsieur Chartier, who explained the mutual desire of the U.S. and France for world peace.

The RFA Latin Club, composed of students who have taken or are taking their second year of Latin, meets on a monthly basis. By means of quiz panels, the members become better acquainted with Latin words, constructions, and the life of the ancient Romans. In some meetings members act out skits in which they portray such famous Roman leaders as Cicero, the orator, Caesar, the dictator, and Cataline, the conspirator. The Club's annual Christmas party had Miss Mae Austin, a former Latin teacher at RFA, as their guest.

The RFA Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Smith, elected the following officers for the school year: President, J. Vargo, Vice President, N. Pendorf, and Secretary, K. O'Shea.

This year's activities coordinated by the officers, Debbie Schue, Gerrit Smith, and Pat Cary as president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively, were handled by an alternating program chairman and included the presentation of Goethe's play Doctor Faustus under the supervision of Herr Schnackenburg to all German students, the faculty, and German-speaking guests.

The Future Nurses Club offers its members practical and valuable experience in nursing. The members, dressed in their cheery "candy-stripe" uniforms, spend about two hours each week at the Rome Hospital acting as nurse's aides and becoming acquainted with many hospital skills and techniques.

In addition to their hospital duties the club, under the leadership of Dorothy Oppito, president; Linda Collier, vice-president; P. Murphy, secretary; and L. Putynovitch, treasurer, sponsors an annual candy sale from which proceeds are used for various trips to hospitals and nursing colleges. The Future Nurses also hold an annual Christmas party, a gala event at which doctors and nurses from the hospital, relax and have fun. The climax of the club year however, is the solemn and moving "capping excercise," which every senior nurse awaits. At this event she receives her cap, a symbol of the profession she will soon enter.

This year the Future Nurses, supervised by Mrs. Loretta Wolzmuth and Mrs. Francis Case, have added a "brother" group, the Future Doctors. These boys, interested in a career in professional medicine, are also given an opportunity to learn more about medicine and hospital procedure.

Combining service, education, and fun, Mrs. Marion Graves' Future Homemakers of America Chapter, founded as a local club in 1928 by Mrs. Graves, is proud to be the oldest home economics club in New York State.

The most important project of the club is to bring cheer to the usually forgotten residents of Rome's nursing homes at Christmas, Valentine's Day, and Easter with visits and gifts made by the forty members.

The bi-monthly meetings include demonstrations of interesting aspects of homemaking, talks by people willing to share their experiences and knowledge, planning projects, playing games, and having parties. The girls also participate in national conventions and spring and fall rallies. They also put on an annual fashion show.

Club officers this year are President Susan Smith, Vice-president Emilie Jones, Treasurer Pamela Dewey, and Secretary Sharon Versace.

Responsible students who wish to be of service to the school have given up their free periods so that a reasonable amount of discipline can be maintained in our corridors while classes are in session. Headed by Pete Lovier, president, this service club has been justly accepted by the majority of the students and with open arms by the faculty.

Operating the sound and lighting effects in the auditorium and taking care of special lighting problems encountered at school functions, are two major duties performed by the RFA Stage Crew.

Because of their excellent skill in utilizing the complicated lighting equipment, success has come to many of our dramatic endeavors, such as the Senior Play and the Talent Show.

Highlighting the major events of the year, including the class dances, the Stage Crew has turned the ordinary auditorium, gym, and cafeteria into a dream world of special effects which have made our essays in entertainment great successes.

J. Palma and C. Riedel try to sell Mr. Yontarno, a cadet teacher, some FTA candy.

The Future Teachers of America have taken another step in promoting interest in the teaching profession. It has been able to accomplish this through pamphlets distributed by the National Education Association. These have acquainted the club's members with the necessary qualifications needed to become a teacher and the rewards which the profession can offer. At the club's meetings cadet teachers have discussed the different phases of teaching with members. Prospective elementary teachers plan to visit elementary classes at Laurel Junior High School to observe various teaching methods in action.

Under the direction of Mr. Bruce Benedict, an RFA biology teacher, a fund-raising candy sale was conducted, the proceeds going to finance a trip to a state teacher's college in the spring. Among the numerous other activities, the Future Teachers Club has given a donation to Dr. Fisher, the founder of Literacy Village located in India.

In the fall, after a nominating committee had presented its slate, the following officers were chosen to preside for the 1964-65 school year: Carol Riedel, president; Carol Rubino, vice-president; Linda Arthur, secretary and Mary Jo Cesari, treasurer.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The American Field Service, under the direction of Miss Katharine Clarke, has had a very active year at Rome Free Academy. The membership has been extended to include the entire student body of RFA, and as a result it now has a membership of approximately eighty-five. This year's elected officers, S. Fallik, president, R. Knauer, vice president, K. Getbehead, secretary, and A. Peterson, treasurer, preside over the four standing committees: scrapbook, poster, hospitality, and photography.

The AFS has engaged in several successful ventures. It has given Maria Lucia, our foreign student from Brazil, several parties to acquaint her with more people. These parties, especially those taking place at Halloween and Christmas, have also served to familiarize Maria with American customs. Thus, the primary goal of the AFS is to make our foreign student feel at home. Second in importance, is the club's annual drive, the purpose of which is to collect enough money to enable Rome Free Academy to send a student abroad.

The AFS is an international organization whose aim is to promote friendship and understanding through the young citizens of the world. It is a spokesman for peace, peace among all men.

ROME FREE

Now it's our turn!

The Rome Free Academy Band, under the direction of John Wise, is a high school organization of exceptional musical quality.

Each fall, the Marching Band performs at football games, lending school spirit to RFA students, in the form of its musical repertoires.

The Concert Band has been responsible for many enjoyable music assemblies, in addition to various evening concerts to which the general public is invited.

This year, during March and April, the band participated in an exchange trip with the Dedham, Massachusetts, high school band. These exchange trips help to encourage friendship between high school bands from different parts of the country.

Because of its high standing, the Rome Free Academy Band has been asked to play at the New York World's Fair this June. We know for certain that they will uphold the standards they have set in the past.

Through hard work and practice, the group of musicians has extended fine musical enjoyment to not only the student body of RFA, but also to students in area schools and the listening public at their evening concerts. The orchestra has performed at the annual State Music Festival, in which they competed in Grade 5, one of the most difficult levels of music, and received an A, the highest possible rating. The finale of the musical year was the honor of being asked to perform at the World's Fair in New York City.

The A Cappella Choir constitutes an important part of the music curriculum at RFA. The members are carefully trained and instructed by their director Mr. William Moonan. The choir's "repertoire" is usually composed of religious and popular as well as classical selections. The A Cappella Choir displays its talent in several assemblies at RFA and other local schools each year. Besides entertaining at RFA, the choir also competes with other area choirs in the New York State School Music Association. At Christmas the Choir broadcasts a program of Christmas carols over a local television station.

The Sophomore Choir was formed to give the sophomores an opportunity to display their talents and prepare them for membership in A Cappella. Directed by Mr. Moonan, the Sophomore Choir combines with the A Cappella and Orchestra to present a special program of musical entertainment.

The Aquatics Club, under the direction of Miss Marilyn Thomas and Mrs. Jane Quebec, gives interested girls the opportunity to pursue and develop swimming skills. In addition to increasing ability and strength, the Aquatics Club strives to develop poise and grace in its swimmers, essentially through synchronized swimming.

The highlight of the year was the club's production of its annual water ballet, this year entitled, "A Three Ring Circus." Hard work and many tedious hours of practicing proved worthwhile. The show was a sellout and a great success.

This year the club initiated a program of competitive swimming for speed swimmers. For the first time members competed in interscholastic meets. The "aquanauts" polish their swimming skills Monday and Wednesday after school. INSPIRERS OF SCHOOL SPIRIT

Four Pep Clubers placate Black Knight's Steed before putting him to pasture.

The Pep Club of Rome Free Academy attempts to stimulate school spirit and pride, not only in athletic events but also in musical performances, scholastic competitions, and social affairs. Last year, in memory of a Pep Club member, the James Nichols' Award was originated as an incentive to members to be active in the club's many activities. The first recipients of the award were the Scritchfield twins, Jean and Joan.

Pep Club is under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Arthur. Mr. Edwin Rapke, and Mr. Nelson Gray. Officers are Ed Anania, president; Mary Jo Cesari, vice-president; Marion Henze, secretary; Carol Rubino, treasurer; Ed Sezna, publicity chairman; and Suellen Gemberling, poster and decorations committee chairman.

This year's activities included the Club's annual dance preceding the RFA vs UFA rival-game. Half-time shows were enhanced by a novel skit portraying the traditional Black Knight on a black charger downing the "enemy." Pep Club presented this year's undefeated football team with key chains as an expression of gratitude for their much-appreciated achievements.

No half-time activities at our football games would be complete without the spirited performance of the Rome Free Academy Majorettes.

These girls work diligently every week so that their presentation will provide superior entertainment for the crowd that fills the stadium. This year, the girls not only showed their excellence at twirling, but also managed to try a hand at a good old-fashioned hoedown. The response of the crowd proved without a doubt that this small hint of Indian Summer was a welcome sight on such a cold night.

GOAL-SETTERS

Field hockey, under the supervision of Miss Marilyn Thomas and Miss Ruth Solan, has greatly expanded. The season starts in September and runs until November. There are two weeks of strenuous excercise, and then the girls are split into four teams. Teams one and two play interscholastically with neighboring schools. Teams three and four are majorly intramural teams. Our teams had an exceedingly good record this year: sixteen wins, one loss. Field hockey is a vigorous and challenging sport which is becoming more popular every year.

The archery program is expanding constantly. Mrs. Dorthea Finlay guides the archers of RFA. The girls try to master mental concentration and physical precision. For the beginner a target is placed at a distance of twenty feet, and she is allowed to experiment. The distance increases with the participant's accuracy. The skilled archer shoots at a target as far as forty feet away. The archery team has meets with neighboring schools. The girl with the highest accumulative total wins the match.

BOWS 'n' RACKETS

Tennis, under the leadership of Miss Ruth Demers, is open to all girls at Rome Free Academy both in the fall and in the spring of the year. Divided into groups according to previous experience and starting with beginners, the girls enjoy an active intramural program. The more skilled players are given the opportunity to compete on an interscholastic team. The popularity of tennis is steadily increasing, and the girls find the game both fun and stimulating.

BASKETBALL

Ever-popular with girls as well as with boys, basketball is one of the main sports offered at RFA. Beginning in November, intramural teams on each grade level vie for the championship of their class. Sophomores, directed by Mrs. Jane Quebec, meet Tuesdays, juniors meet with Miss Thomas on Thursdays, and seniors, under Miss Demers, compete on Wednesdays. A highlight of the season is the All-Rome Playday in which any girl may compete with her classmates against teams from grades 9-12. Terminating the season is the Strough Tournament in which the outstanding players from each class vie for points for their class and thus for the Strough Trophy.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball is one of the most popular girls' sports at RFA. Action on the court begins at the end of the basketball season and continues throughout the winter. One Saturday in March is designated for the All-Rome Playday at Laurel School. At this playday there is competition within the respective classes, and the day ends with a match between the freshmen, juniors, sophomores, and seniors. The volleyball season climaxes with the Strough Competition which is usually held in March. On this day, Rome Free Academy girls vie for points for the Strough Trophy and for glory for their class.

CHEERLEADERS SP

From amidst the reverberating cries of "GR-R-R FIGHT" emerge the Rome Free Academy cheerleaders, vivacious and eager to cheer the teams to victory. Under the supervision of the advisor, Mrs. Jane Quebec, a two-week training session is held each spring during which all interested freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, providing they are academically eligible, are taught a cheer by the cheerleaders. a preliminary cut is made, and at the end of the second week, seven varsity and ten junior varsity cheerleaders are selected on the basis of general attitude, poise, coordination, and enthusiasm. BIRDIES

Beginning early in September and continuing through October, badminton intramurals were held every Monday night. After several weeks of general practice, a singles elimination tournament was held. The winner was Nancy Weber; the runner-up was Sharon Stromick. Although there were not too many participants this year, the social popularity of this game will increase its popularity as an intramural sport.

PADDLERS

Table tennis was renewed this year after a brief absence from the athletic schedule. Interested girls were invited to participate Monday nights during the months of September and October. General practice sessions prepared the girls for the singles tournament which terminated the season. The winner was Anita Minnich; the runner-up was Debbie Piccola. Table tennis has proved to be a challenging and amusing game.

MANAGERS

The managers take phone messages, guard the office from burglars, and help administer first aid. They function as hostesses for playdays and aid the gym teachers in any miscellaneous jobs that need to be done. Each manager works one or more nights a week until the intramural activities of that night are over.

B. Newman performs an arabesque on the uneven parallel bars.

GYMNASTS

Gymnastics is a very popular sport among RFA girls. Meeting every Monday night with Miss Demers, the members of the Apparatus Club enjoy working on various routines while they develop coordination, agility, and grace. Girls choose the still rings, trampoline, horse, ropes, even or uneven parallel bars, balance beam, or a combination of these for specialized training. An interscholastic team, composed of the more skilled members of the group, represents RFA in contests at home and at area schools. Gymnastics is part of the curriculum for the gym class, but the Apparatus Club allows girls to attempt stunts which are perhaps beyond the ability of the average student.

STRIKES AND SPARES

Bowling, although it occupies no class time in girls' physical education classes, does have an expanding place in the intramural program. Miss Ethel Abbot supervises the intramurals which start in October and extend until April. The games are played weekly at the Rome Bowling Center. From the participants in these games, Miss Abbot chooses the outstanding girls to compete with teams from other schools. Climaxing the season in April the girls finishing first and those taking the high single and doubles honors are awarded trophies.

PACE-SETTERS

Track has long been popular among the RFA girls, and this year was no exception. The girls go through a general conditioning period after which they choose one or more track or field events for specialized practice. A number of interscholastic meets give the girls a chance to compete with girls from area schools. The Strough Track Meet, a seasonal highlight, renews the interclass rivalries as the girls strive to help their class win the Strough Trophy.

MERMAIDS

This year, for the first time, Rome Free Academy organized a girls' interscholastic swimming team with Mrs. Jane Quebec as its advisor. The girls are permitted to use the pool Monday and Wednesday after school. Beginning in December, aspirants for the team began practicing specific strokes for the forthcoming meets with area schools. This new-comer to the athletic program was received with enthusiasm by the girls.

BALLS AND STRIKES

The girls' version of baseball — softball — hits the RFA diamond every spring. In the gym and on the field the girls are welcome to vigorously compete with one another. All interested girls are welcome to participate in the intramural program. The girls are allowed to choose their own teams and to contend with each other. From these intramural teams — sophomores, juniors, and seniors — Miss Marilyn Thomas, the girls' supervisor, selects the most talented girls to play interscholastically.

The R.F.A. Black Knights fought to their first undefeated season in three years under new head coach Jerry Baker. Captained by Mike Coriale and Paul Vaccaro, the gridders trounced traditional foe U.F.A. 39-6 in their best effort of the season. Equally remarkable is the fact that our team outscored its opponents 187 points to 50, clearly demonstrating the effectiveness of the defensive and offensive units.

O

The only blemish on the record occurred in a tense battle of defense at Proctor resulting in a 6-6 tie.

Not only were the dazzling performances of the Rome team applauded at home but they were also recognized by area coaches. Attesting to this is the fact that Rome placed six men on the Central Oneida All-Star team and two players on the Syracuse Herald All-Star team.

It is indeed a tough breed that Coach William Coughlin leads to victory.

Our marathon men of 1964, captained by Larry Plunkett, retained RFA's prestige by outclassing all schools in dual meets and capturing the Central Oneida League Championship for the seventh consecutive season. In addition they romped to a seventh place finish in the sectionals to round out another highly successful campaign.

CAGERS

Coach Lew Bennett faced a grave height problem in this his third year as RFA's varsity basketball coach. Despite this handicap, the cagers had an exciting season.

The RFA hoopsters began their season with a win over Watertown High. Bested at Proctor, the team returned home to garner two more victories. A highlight of the Christmas vacation was the city championship game with Rome Catholic High. Though the results of this contest were disappointing, every minute was filled with tension and anxiety.

The next games left Rome bowing to Whitesboro, Notre Dame, and UFA, but the tossers scored again in the winning column as they bested Watertown 77-55. This game also saw Pete Arnold set a rebounding record with 42 grabs.

High scorers for the season include co-captains Pete Arnold, who tied the school's high scoring record, and Jim Bates, Bob Evangelist and Mike Coriele.

With the piercing sound of the starting whistle, Coach Ed Weed's grapplers strain to gain an edge on their opponents, and their impressive record of eleven wins and two losses attests to their ability. In addition, such outstanding athletes as captains Curtis Foulks and Larry Plunket led the squad to their 5th straight first place in the Central Oneida League and another first place in the Western Division of the Central New York Wrestling League. Curt Foulks also won a first place at the sectionals.

Among the more thrilling contests was a 20-19 conquest of Cazenovia and a bitter defeat at the hands of Watertown. Proctor proved to be the easiest opponent, bowing 53-3 to the strength of such players as Keith Kinna and Neil Weissman.

Our Motto

It has been our desire to establish these places as retreats where you may find surcease and relief from the everyday cares of life. We don't want you to look upon them as restaurants, cafes or cabarets, but as havens where you will be assured of relaxation and a pleasant hour or two safe in the port of sincere hospitality.
